Isaiah 55:10-11 ESV

“For as the rain and the snow come down from heaven and do not return there but to water the earth, making it bring forth and sprout, giving seed to the sower and bread to the eater, ¹¹so shall my word be that goes out from my mouth; it shall not return to me empty, but it shall accomplish that which I purpose, and shall succeed in the thing for which I sent it.”

From the Pastor:

New Sound for a New Year

On January 4th and 5th, Sound Production and Lighting out of Skokie, IL, removed the old speakers that (crookedly) hung from the center of the sanctuary and replaced them with modern, column array speakers for the main seating area of the nave and some additional fill speakers for the altar area and the balcony.

The old speakers showed that they were from 1985, which means they were nearly 40 years old. The life of a speaker is generally 20–30 years if they are taken care of. This may explain why so many of you complained about not being able to hear well. It seems as though one or more of the horn speakers were not working properly, and the congregation was only receiving muddy, mid-range amplification.

Along with the new speakers comes a new amplifier. I was in the room as the technicians were testing the speakers, and I can tell you that there is more than enough volume; more than we will ever need. But volume is not the only ingredient for good sound.

Because our worship space has excellent acoustics for live sound, such as our organ and group singing, it also presents a special challenge for microphone feedback. The technician worked through each microphone, identifying which frequencies caused the most feedback, and made the adjustments. However, because the acoustics of a room change in different circumstances, such as when it's filled with people or when the heater fans are not on, we will probably still need to make some adjustments to get the optimum sound quality.

Finally, you may have to look closely to find the new speakers. While they are not completely hidden, the design of a column array speaker makes it blend more naturally with the vertical lines of a traditional church building such as ours. The position of the speakers complements the architecture much more than the hanging speakers of the past.

I've included some pictures of the removal and installation of the speaker system, but I hope that you'll be able to enjoy it in person very soon.

In Christ, under the cross,

Pastor Ehrhard

Ladies Book Club: In January The Ladies Book Club will be reading Nothing But The Night: Leopold and Loeb by Greg King and Peggy Wilson. This well researched novel delves into the "crime of the century": the murder of fourteen year old Bobby Franks by two wealthy Chicago teenagers.

The Ladies Book Club continues to meet via ZOOM on the last Tuesday of the month at 7:30PM. Please contact Betty Carey if you would like to join us or if you have suggestions for books for next year.

Voters Meeting: We will have a voters meeting on Sunday, February 4th at 10:15AM in the Fellowship Room instead of Family Bible Hour.

From the Principal: Happy New Year!

Students will return to school on Monday, January 8th after a relaxing Christmas break. The second quarter will come to a close on Friday, January 19th. It is incredibly hard to believe that we are that close to being half way through the 2023-2024 school year.

National Lutheran Schools week will be celebrated January 21st - 27th. Students will have spirit dress days with a fun activity and service project each day. We will start the mornings with an all school devotion and close the week with Chapel that our VIPs will attend with us. The theme for the week is the same as our school year theme of "Connected" (John 15:1-5). What a great promise to remind our students that by remaining in Christ we will bear much fruit!

I pray that God richly blesses each of you in the new year with good health and pure happiness!

EPIPHANY — JANUARY 1-31

Epiphany is from a Greek word meaning to “reveal” or “make manifest.” The season of Epiphany is our time to focus on the revelation of who Jesus is — both true God and true man — as we remember Christ’s revelation to the Gentiles in the visit of the Wise Men.

Give thanks as you pray:

- 1. That God would make us bold witnesses to the Good News of Jesus Christ in this new year and always.
- 2. For opportunities to witness to friends, family members and strangers. Please send Your Holy Spirit to give us wisdom and faithful words to use during these encounters.
- 3. For our congregations, that God would strengthen them by fostering a faithful Lutheran approach to confessing Christ to neighbors and planting daughter congregations.
- 4. That our schools would be faithful mission outposts, reaching unchurched families with the Gospel and strengthening the faith of church families.
- 5. With thanksgiving for all the Synod’s faithful church workers, that they might be re-energized daily and find great joy in their service.
- 6. That just as You made known Your Son to the Gentiles through the leading of a star, You would continue to bring the light of Your Gospel to the hearts of all people.
- 7. For new church plants and mission starts, that the Lord would help faithful congregations sprout up in every corner of the United States.
- 8. That we would be effective in reaching out to people of different ethnicities who are living in our communities. Pray that the Lord would use us
- as His instruments to make the LCMS a reflection of the Church Triumphant.*
- 9. For those marching for life, whether at the National March for Life in Washington, D.C., or a pro-life event closer to home. Please pray that all those who attend might be a powerful witness to others.
- 10. For all children, that they would be brought to the saving waters of Baptism and raised in the love, nurture and admonition of the Lord.
- 11. That the Lord would help us raise our children and young people in the faith, always pointing them to the hope and salvation found only in Christ.
- 12. For college students, who are struggling with many different issues and challenges. Ask God to make them receptive to the peace and healing of the Gospel.
- 13. For the aged, that they would be godly examples to the young as they are patient in their tribulations, joyful in their hope, firm in their faith and humble in all they say and do.
- 14. That God would strengthen our hope and impact by encouraging partnerships in the Gospel that clearly confess Christ.
- 15. For the Synod’s 35 districts, that they might have the resources and wisdom to effectively reach out to their communities.
- 16. For strong districts, congregations and Recognized Service Organizations. When our Synod is strong at home, we can better reach out across the world.
- 17. For all missionaries around the world, who leave family and friends to travel to a foreign land to share the Gospel with those who have not heard. Pray that God would grant them safety, wisdom and strength.

Stewardship Under the Cross, God's Word on How We Use His Gifts

by HR Curtis

Luther on Tithing and Stewardship

Martin Luther had much to say about being a good steward of God's gifts. Below are a series of quotations from the great Reformer about faithful, Biblical stewards.

On Vowing to Support the Church with Tithes

Thus it is said (Prov. 3:9): "Honor the Lord with your substance." This must be understood not only of words and of the worship of the mouth or genuflection but of the deed itself.... Gal. 6:6: "Let him who is taught in the Word share all good things with him who teaches." Therefore when God wants to be honored, then He wants sacrifices to be offered, not only sacrifices of the mouth but also the reverence of the heart, yes, the deed itself. He wants us to help the ministry, and He wants everyone to contribute for the purpose of supporting the studies of the pupils and of propagating the doctrine. Then God is truly praised and glorified there. Make a vow there, and say: "I promise that I am willing to contribute something for the assistance of the churches." That is St. Jacob's vow. Therefore this example should be diligently inculcated, namely, that Jacob vows tithes, not in order that God Himself may eat or be enriched; but he gives them to the poor ministers and to those who are always the least of the brethren or disciples of Christ on earth. For all other arts are gainful and have their profits. This profession alone is in need of bountiful giving. We must live from the altar, as Paul says (1 Cor. 9:13). Accordingly, he who is godly and loves the Word of God contributes something. He who hates the doctrine along with those who teach and learn it robs and despoils.

Otherwise God has so ordained that we should live from the vows, sacrifices, and alms that are owed to us by divine right. When the godly see the poverty and need of the ministers of the church and the school, they make vows and obligate themselves to give tithes, as Jacob gave them. (LW v.5)

On Tithing to Support God's Work in the Church

Therefore this text shows that Jacob did not make such a foolish and godless vow, but that it was a vow of thanksgiving. For he says: "If I come again, etc." It is as though he were saying: "I shall now obligate myself to pay a debt, and I shall make satisfactory reparation when I return. What? I shall build a school and a church here, and I shall give a tithe of bulls and goats and fruits for its establishment and upkeep, likewise a tenth part of the milk and the butter." Of course, God does not need these things. For He does not eat bread or drink wine, as He says in Ps. 50:13: "Do I eat the flesh of bulls?" What, then, are you doing? I answer that Jacob is already righteous. Accordingly, he does not make a vow to placate God by making it; but he wants to do this to give thanks, to glorify God, in order that He may conduct him and bring him back according to the promise. Who will receive these tithes? Not the angels, not the sun, not the moon. But he will perform that extraordinary and glorious work for the purpose of preserving the ministry and founding churches and schools. . . . This is how Moses should be understood when he says (Deut. 23:21): "When you make a vow to the Lord your God, you shall not be slack to pay it." What does it mean to make a vow to God, or whom is Moses addressing when he says: "The Lord your God"? It means to give tithes to the disciples, sons, and wives of the prophets, to the poor and needy. These are the ones who are to be supported by the tithes offered to God, and through these tithes God is supported. For God says: "Whatever you give to the children of the priests and prophets through whom the doctrine is propagated you must regard as given to Me, not that I may justify you through this work, but it should be a thanksgiving and a sacrifice of praise because I have justified you and have also blessed you in temporal matters. In addition, I shall bless you even more if you give ear to, support, and cherish the poor sons of the prophets." (Luther's Works, vol. 5)

On Abraham's Stewardship

This was not the first time that Abraham gave tithes of these to the priest Melchizedek; he did so every year. Even before that victory Abraham conducted himself humbly, acknowledged Shem as a priest of the Most High, and gave him tithes, as did Lot and the other fathers who lived at that time. (LW vol. 2)... To be sure, Abraham had property; but he did not love it, since he showed that he was a manager and knew that by God's will he had been appointed a steward of his goods. (LW vol. 30).
